HOTEL AT GARFIELD.

The Citizens Should Move and Secure It.

MORE IN IT THAN POLITICS.

Cheap Rates on Utah Coal and Nebraska Corn is What Will Make Salt Lake A Great City.

If Vanderbilt has reversed his malediction against the public and said, "The politicians be damned," he would have immortalized the words and the author. But Vanderbilt was not great enough nor grand enough to give utterance to such a just malediction, and like all men wrapped in their own importance, he blamed the people for the sins of the rulers.

There is a set of politicians in this city who devote more time and spend more money to control the offices than would build a hotel at Garfield, if the energy and money were spent in the right direction. It may be added that the pollution of politics corrupts more men than all the other vices put together, because men are easily led from the path of rectitude, and resort to corrupt methods under the belief that the end justifies the means.

No sane man will deny that a hotel at Garfield Beach would do this city and county more good than that a certain set should control the offices, and yet people go around beating drums and sound a cry of "Liberalism."

Of the thousands of strangers who visited this city during the past year, not one was heard to say: "It is a pity that the county offices are not filled with Liberals," yet, every visitor to Garfield Beach has lamented that there was not a hotel.

These same persons went away disappointed at the lack of accommodations at Garfield Beach, and yet they are not willing to build a hotel.

The moral of the above allusion is in this: That business, not politics, catches the investor. If the same interest was taken in building a hotel at Garfield Beach, it is in corrupting and redeeming it, the finest salt water lake in the union would not be without a hotel.

Let the business men get together and act. It is all important that immediate steps be taken, so that the building can be started this fall and completed in time for next season. Why not call a public meeting and get 500 signatures to a petition for a hotel at Garfield Beach?

A paper signed by 500 Salt Lake business men and citizens agreeing to take 500 rooms in the Garfield hotel would be conclusive proof to the railroad officials that there was a popular demand for such a resort. While the railroad officials make promises that they will erect one of the finest resorts of the kind to be found on the western continent, yet the people know how often and how easily these promises are broken.

Let the chamber of commerce circulate a petition and get 500 signatures for the great Garfield hotel for the summer of 1891.

Salt Lake city cannot afford to have this matter further delayed.

Parties not desiring to occupy their rooms for the entire season would find no difficulty in turning them over to tourists. In fact it is quite certain that a hotel with 500 rooms could be kept filled with the tourists who while they would like to spend the summer at the lake at present are forced to leave for other places where hotel accommodations can be had.

Will you be one of the five hundred?

Another important move, and one it is a pleasure to chronicle, is under way. It is the matter of transportation. The committee appointed by the real estate exchange and chamber of commerce are securing the necessary information to make a strong presentation to the railroad officials in behalf of an adjustment of rates wherever they are found to discriminate against the merchants of this city. Mr. W. C. B. Allen is one of the active members of this committee and from him it was learned that a concerted action will be made to get low rates on the Utah Central, which is the basis of nearly all manufacturing enterprises. With cheap coal everything is possible. The committee will also press for a low rate for corn from Nebraska, as with cheap corn at this point the alfalfa-fed cattle of the surrounding country can be fattened to as fine a finish as if fed entirely on corn.

At the club board yesterday morning the members discussed THE HERALD's report of the meeting of the day previous. Some of them thought that the present financial straits of the society should be kept quiet and not made public, while there were others who thought it was the best thing that could have happened, as it would wake the members up and stir them to action. If there was a hotel at Garfield, which the real estate men could wish to have concealed they should too the mark and pay up. Many members who have been absent from the meetings for some time were aroused by the publication to do something to meet the emergency. There is nothing that holds a society together closer than money in the treasury, and there is nothing that tends to dissolve a body quicker than assessments and indebtedness. The exchange should keep up a good stiff balance in the treasury at all times, as this is the strongest bond of fellowship that they can secure.

Transportation Bureau.

The transportation bureau which meets every Tuesday evening will consider the following points:

First—Railway mileage and ownership in Utah, capital, cost of construction, stock value, assessed value, earnings, tonnage and passenger traffic.

Second—The local and industrial directory of Salt Lake city; names of all shippers interested in the work of the transportation bureau.

Third—The local and industrial directory of Salt Lake city; names of all shippers interested in the work of the transportation bureau.

Fourth—Passenger service, local and suburban trains, excursion and immigrant rates.

Fifth—Proposed lines of most benefit to Salt Lake.

Sixth—To secure improved facilities at Garfield.

A New Church.

J. M. Nelson put in an application at yesterday's real estate club board for 600 rods located between Brigham street and Third Street, and not further east than Third Street, the same to be used for erecting a church.

Glass Factory.

Secretary Gillespie last evening wired a large glass manufacturer in the east to make a bid to build a glass factory in any other city until he visited Salt Lake.

Our Mountain Forests.

The following letter has been received by the chamber of commerce:

STATE OF COLORADO, OFFICE OF THE FORESTER, COLORADO SPRINGS, July 21, 1890.

I take it for granted you feel an interest in the preservation of our mountain forests. I have been very much interested in the subject of forming a forestry association, to embrace the entire western mountain region. I request that at your earliest convenience you will furnish me with the addresses of, say, ten of the principal newspapers in Utah, with names of editors or publishers.

Second—The names and addresses of fifty (or more) prominent citizens to whom might be sent printed forestry matter, with a view to interesting them in the question of forest preservation and extension.

K. W. J. KISSACK, Forester, Commissioner.

The secretary of the chamber of commerce would be pleased to have fifty such gentlemen send him their names.

Our Clearing House.

Yesterday's clearings were $250,236.

The Workmen More Confident of Success Than Ever Before—The Laborer and His Hire.

The Tribune, in referring to one of the workmen's candidates, Fergus Ferguson, stated that he took an active part with Mr. Lippman in preventing the naturalization of Mormons and asked the Mormons how they could support such an enemy to their religion. The same paper also stated in this connection that they had elected Brigham Young of going through the endowment house and taking a citizenship at West Point or going without, and that he chose to go without. This statement, which it does from the Tribune, proves two things, viz.: that the workmen's ticket is in no sense a Mormon church ticket, and that it was gotten up by gentle workmen themselves who were dissatisfied with the way the kid-gloved fraternity ran the Liberal convention without being so much as a thought upon the holy land of Zion.

That the labor ticket is not widely acceptable to the Mormons from a personal point of view is admitted by the Tribune. How, then, can it be so widely acceptable to the workmen?
